Longshoremen discovered the "stick-type grenades, left over from World War I and n, yesterday while unloading general cargo from the passenger-cargo ship. 'The grenades were rolling loose aft - or their packing crates had become smashed. Most of the grenades had been unloaded earlier, in the week at Norfolk, Va. They were shipped by the King's Mountain Corporation in Copenhagen to the International Armament Corporation of Alexandria, Va., according to the ship's officials. It had been believed that all of the 7,117 crates had been unloaded in Virginia. | True | | 1988-01-11 | RE0000369010 | RE0000369010 |
